OFFICE IN THE CREMATORIUM BUILDING

Howe and Mather Streets, Oakland.

Visitors always welcome between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX:

"I heartily approve of cremation. In the first place it is cleanly; in the second place, it is economical. It helps along nature. The body must eventually turn to dust, and why not turn it to dust by cremation rather than have it decompose in the ground?

"Then again, the increase in population, and consequently death, must render this mode of disposing of the dead eventually necessary."

Outside view of the new Columbarium, which has been completed at an immense cost.

One of the finest Columbariums in the world for the reception of ashes. The building is a model of its kind and is as beautiful as money can make it. Thousands of niches are for sale for the benefit of those who wish to have a perpetual resting place for the ashes of their dead, amid appropriate surroundings. Flowers and shrubs are there in abundance to make it as attractive as possible, and resting places are fitted up throughout for those who come to visit.

St. Helena Sanitarium, Sanitarium, Napa County, California

(OVER)

The ST. HELENA SANITARIUM has been operated about thirty years, having been incorporated in 1878 as the RURAL HEALTH RETREAT. The buildings are situated upon an eminence overlooking the Napa Valley at an elevation of 760 feet above the sea level.

It is the largest and best equipped medical and surgical institution of its class west of the Rocky Mountains.

The work of the institution is of a two-fold nature: First, to assist nature to restore normal conditions by employing such remedial agents as the case may demand. Second, to educate the patient to properly care for himself after recovering, so that a return of the difficulty will be avoided.

Parlor lectures, covering subjects of interest to health seekers are delivered semi-weekly and lectures on dietetics, accompanied by demonstrations in healthful cookery, are held each week, while the Natatorium, Gymnasium and various outdoor games and amusements, besides walking and driving, furnish ample amusement and entertainment.

For further information, address St. Helena Sanitarium, Sanitarium, Napa County, California.

To live long and well, ask your grocer for the famous Health Foods manufactured by the Sanitarium Food Company, St. Helena, California.
